

Crochet with Care - Mission Statement

This blog exists to honor and support the smallest fighters among us - premature babies in NICUs - by creating and donating handmade hats and blankets, and by sharing reflections, encouragement, and stories inspired by quiet acts of care.

Through compassionate crafting and intentional writing, my mission is to remind others that love, even in its smallest forms, can offer the greatest comfort.